HART, EX-CONVICT, CAUGHT NEAR ELMO

WANTED AT ST. JOSEPH ON CHARGE OF MURDER

IS A DESPERATE MAN

Arrested at George Huff Farm About 1:30 O'Clock This Morning—Suffers From Wound

Charles Hart, wanted by St. Joseph authorities on a charge of murder was arrested early this morning by members of the Nodaway County Sheriff's office and five detectives from St. Joseph, at the home of George Huff, who lives four miles north of Elmo. Hart seriously wounded cycle patrolman, John Less of St. Joseph late Thursday night in a running gun battle. Less died at 7:30 o'clock last evening in St. Joseph.

The St. Joseph police department got a tip last night that Hart was at the home of George Huff and sent five men to Maryville. Sheriff Roach got word from St. Joseph to get a number of deputies ready as it was thought Hart was headed toward Maryville. Detectives Eads, Smith, Burnett, Chrisman and Wright of the St. Joseph police department with Sheriff Steve Roach and deputies Leo Atherton, Charles Partridge, Walter Randall, Ben Chandler and Dennis Collins, drove to the Mount Tabor School house, four miles north of Elmo, near the George Huff farm late last night. The eleven men went to the house about 1:30 o'clock this morning and surrounded the building. Steve Roach, Atherton, Eads, Smith and Randall went to the front door and when admitted told Huff that they had information that a man by the name of Charles Hart was in the house. Huff said that was true and the men went upstairs to the room where Hart was lying in bed. When the detectives and the sheriff and Atherton went into the room they found Hart lying in bed with a 38 Colt revolver and a box of shells. He gave up without a shot being fired.

The St. Joseph authorities immediately placed him under arrest and took him to St. Joseph for confinement where he will face the charge of murder.

Late Thursday night Hart was arrested in the Elms Hotel at St. Joseph. John Less, the cycle patrolman took him to the street where he was waiting for a patrol car and as the car drove up Hart started to run with Less after him. Hart shot Less, wounding him in the right groin. Another policeman fired at him but Hart escaped in an alley. However, Hart was hit by one of the bullets in his left leg between the hip and the knee. He has had no medical care except for iodine which he has applied to the wound himself.

After the shooting fray Hart laid under the porch of a house for a couple of hours, then walked up the tracks to Nodaway Station and bummed his way to Elmo, reaching there Saturday night. He told the detectives that he hired out to Huff to pick corn for him.

At the police department at St. Joseph Hart is known as a desperate man. He is an ex-convict from the Nebraska state prison. He was sentenced there on a charge of robbery and has been implicated on a number of scrapes in St. Joseph. This morning Leo Atherton, deputy sheriff, said "I think it was a good catch."

It was learned this morning that an elderly man, presumably living in or near Elmo went into the police department at St. Joseph and told the chief of police that he thought Hart was staying at the Huff farm.

Man Hunt Follows Hold Up of Resort

Authorities are Searching for Bandits Who Killed Two Persons and Fatally Wounded Another

St. Louis, Oct. 23—One of the greatest man hunts in the history of St. Louis was underway today for the bandits who early this morning held up patrons of Plantation Inn and, when resisted, shot and killed Richard Grant and his wife, both of Chicago, and fatally wounded William Slotmaker, Grant's chauffeur, also of Chicago.

The bandits scooped up $50 from a cash register and made their escape during the disorder that followed the shooting. They made no attempt to rob the dead although Mrs. Grant's body was literally covered with diamonds and other jewelry.

COMPLAINTS FILED AGAINST EXCHANGE

CHARGES KANSAS CITY INSTITUTION WITH DISCRIMINATION

MONOPOLY IS ALLEGED

Says That Kansas City Livestock Exchange Does Not Allow Open and Free Operation

Kansas City, Oct. 23—Charges that the Kansas City Livestock Exchange exercises a monopoly and that the exchange practices discrimination and boycott were being investigated here today by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The complaints were filed by the Farmers' Union Livestock Commission, incorporated, and the Producers Commission Association against fifty-two members of the Kansas City exchange. These organizations allege they were not permitted to operate in the exchange.

Chester Morrill, assistant to Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, and several special assistants were examining the charges. Senator James A. Reed represents the defendants. The hearing will probably continue for several days, Morrill indicated.

Severely Burned in Attempted Rescue

Kansas City, Kan., Oct. 23.—A 6-months-old baby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Groves, was burned to death here today when flames destroyed the Groves residence.

Returning from a store, the child's mother found the house enveloped in flames. In attempting to rescue her baby, she was burned severely. When firemen removed the body it was charred beyond recognition.

A defective flue, firemen said, caused the fire.

Ebert Tells Students About Tarkio Game

The details of the Tarkio-Maryville High School football game, played Friday at Tarkio, were given to the student body of the High School last evening by Harold G. Ebert, high school football coach. Mr. Ebert said that he was proud the way the Maryville boys performed at Tarkio.

The student body and the members of the team voiced their sentiments that they were not discouraged over the results of the game. Ebert brought out the fact that a team must be a third better to beat an opponent that is playing on its own field.

A number of good rousing yells were given at the meeting last night by the student body and the High School students are having high hopes for a victory this coming Friday when the Spoofhounds meet the King City eleven.

Wolcotts to Move to Kansas City Sunday

Miss Edith Wolcott has resigned her position with the Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust Company, and accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Wolcott, will leave Sunday morning for Kansas City to make their future home. On November 1 Miss Wolcott assumes her new position as assistant to Mr. Medill, title examiner of the People's Trust Company. For the last five years she has served as secretary to S. G. Gillam, president of the Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust Company. Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott moved to Maryville about three years ago from Quitman.

FORCADES MARRIED FIFTY YEARS AGO

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT HOME.

ALL-DAY PROGRAM GIVEN

"Bride" and "Groom" Were Married by the Rev. Joseph A. Cooper —House Profusely Decorated.

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Forcade was celebrated Saturday October 20 at their beautiful country home, three miles north of Graham, where they have resided since their marriage. The house was profusely decorated with autumn flowers, a gift from the guests. Punch was served upon the arrival of the guests, and music was furnished throughout the day by Genevieve Miller, Evelyn Evans and Mrs. J. R. Evans. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock for about fifty guests. The "bride's" table was artistically decorated in gold and white, a cut glass basket filled with yellow chrysanthemums centering the table. The same color scheme was carried out in the dinner appointments.

Following the dinner, the bride and groom of fifty years entered the living room to the strains of a wedding march played by Genevieve Miller, the youngest grand niece of the "bride." Their second wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph A. Cooper. Mrs. Forcade wore her wedding gown of fifty years ago, an elaborately fashioned dress of silk and wool, the color being ashes of roses, a color found today among the new shades. The dress was made entirely by hand and is in excellent condition today. It was a very charming bride and a very happy bridegroom whom the Rev. Mr. Cooper pronounced man and wife after fifty years of life together.

Immediately following the ceremony a short program was given, as follows: Remarks by Mrs. Althea M. Taylor; vocal solo, "On Their Golden Wedding Day," Mrs. J. R. Evans, accompanied on the piano by Evelyn Evans; reading, "The Wedding Fee of Fifty Years Ago," Mrs. R. W. Cable; original poem, Mrs. Fred Miller; and "Uncle Albert's Courtship," Mrs. Evans. Short talks were given by Mrs. Anderson Craig, an old neighbor of the Forcades, who came into the community a bride at about the same time as did Mrs. Forcade; Lee Teson, Fred D. Miller and James Decker. The program closed with singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and prayer by the Rev. Mr. Cooper.

About 1870, Mrs. Forcade, then Lorinda Ann Miller, came to Nodaway county from Ohio to visit friends. She taught at the old Forcade school and boarded with the Forcade family. Here the courtship of "Uncle Albert" and "Aunt Rinda," began, which culminated in their marriage in Ohio in 1873. There was one guest present at the golden wedding celebration who attended the wedding fifty years ago. This was Fred Miller, who was then two years old, his father, J. S. Miller, being a brother of Mrs. Forcade.

Until recent years both Mr. and Mrs. Forcade have taken an active part in community affairs, especially the church. The former served as superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School in Graham for over twenty years and at the same time Mrs. Forcade was a Sunday School teacher. No children ever blessed the Forcade home but for the last few years they have had residing with them a grand nephew, Dale Dorman, whose mother, formerly Miss Mattie Miller, died at his birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Forcade had on display a very interesting collection of relics of their first housekeeping days. Among these were their first knives and forks, some garden tools and their saddle and side-saddle which they possessed before courtship days. A number of group pictures were taken and numerous congratulatory letters and telegrams were received by the couple throughout the day.

About 100 guests were invited but several of those from a distance were unable to come for the celebration. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Forcade, Omaha; Mrs. Frank Blazier, Cordova, Mont.; Mrs. Ella Miller and Mrs. Althea Taylor and daughter, Maryetta of Clarksdale, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cable of Clearmont; Dr. and Mrs. M. M.

Bossy Causes Stampede

A wild, unruly, undomesticated Missouri cow caused a stampede at the Burlington passenger station Saturday noon.

Dr. C. H. Coe had a milk-giving creature entered in the Hosmer sale Saturday afternoon, so he employed two amateur cow chauffeurs to see that the cow was in Maryville in time for the sale. She was being brought from the Coe farm, one and a half miles northeast of town, and was accompanied by a nice, law-abiding lady-like cow. However, as she approached the Burlington depot she decided to enter the waiting room. And who can change a cow's mind when it is once made up?

So, Bossy ran through the waiting room and the passengers began a hurried exit from their usual peaceful quarters. The cow ran up the track and finally fell down. She was then subdued by her drivers and finally taken to her destination.

WOLFE-MALONEY BOUT SCHEDULED

FOR NEXT MONDAY AT THE COLLEGE GYMNASIUM

DR. THOMAS NEGOTIATES FOR Do-

For Some Good Wrestling Matche During the Winter—Jack McGill May Come Here

Wrestling fans will have a chance to see two of the best middle-weight wrestlers in the Middle West next Monday evening at the State Teachers College Gymnasium when "Billy" Wolfe of Kansas City and Jack Maloney of Fort Smith, Ark., will tussle on the mat. Thi smatch is under the auspices of the James Edward Gray Post of the American Legion. A good preliminary is being arranged for the evening's program.

"Billy" Wolfe is one of the leading middle-weights in the Middle Western states and is recognized by the metropolitan newspapers of the state as middle-weight champion of Missouri. Wolfe is a spectacular wrestler, furnishing plenty of thrills and is popular with the mat enthusiasts in Maryville. He last appeared in this city during the fore part of September.

Jack Maloney, who is a member of the Murray Davis American Legion Post No. 10 of Fort Smith, Ark., served overseas with the Thirty-fifth Division. In a letter to Dr. D. J. Thomas said that "he has won every wrestling bout since he has been in the profession." Maloney has defeated such men as Tozi, the Italian middle-weight champion, "Young" Stecker and Lirney. He promises to put up a good exhibition here next Monday.

Wolfe has been in training ever since the wrestling season opened and is now in good condition. The proceeds will be split on a 60-40 basis. Dr. D. J. Thomas, who has officiated at all of the wrestling matches in Maryville for a considerable time, will referee the bout this coming Monday.

Doctor Thomas has recently been in communication with several national wrestling figures in hopes of securing some good matches for Maryville. He is in receipt of a letter from Jack McGill, famous heavy-weight wrestler, who has recommended a Dr. Furness of Chicago as a comer in the mat game. The Legion will try to get Furness here as soon as an opponent can be secured.

Doctor Thomas is now negotiating with Jack McGill to have him come to Maryville sometime this winter and display his skill with another heavy-weight wrestler.

Forty Books Added to M. H. S. Agr. Library

The Maryville High School agricultural library was enlarged recently when an addition of forty books was made. These books deal on agricultural topics, farm economics and farm management. These books have been deemed a necessity to the library for the students interested in the vocation of agriculture.

The meeting of the State Building and Loan Association will be held in St. Joseph Friday and Saturday.

Former Premier Pays Tribute at Marion

Marion, Ohio, Oct. 23.—"I come to pay tribute of respect to the memory of one who in public life became beloved to the people of this country and the world," David Lloyd George, war time premier of Great Britain declared from the rear platform of his train today as the special pulled out of Cleveland for a brief stop here.

This was his only public utterance in Marion.

Several thousand persons, mostly school children, had gathered at the station to bid him Godspeed. After breakfasting on his train, he visited Marion cemetery, where he placed a wreath on the grave of the late President Harding.

He then went to the home of Mrs. Harding and visited with her for a few minutes. On his way to the cemetery, the Britisher directed that his motor car stop for a moment in front of the office of the Marion Star, formerly owned by the late President.

J. S. McNicholas of St. Louis came last night for a visit at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. L. M. Rilea, and family.

8:00 o'clock address by Dr. Keller.

PLEDGES SUPPORT OF KU KLUX KLAN

W. J. SIMMONS ALSO COMMENDS LLOYD GEORGE FOR EFFORTS.

MUST PREVENT WARS

"England and America Must Be Linked Together by Ties of Blood," Britisher Is Told.

Cleveland, Oct. 23.—A message to David Lloyd George, war time premier of Great Britain, now visiting in the United States, pledging the support of the Ku Klux Klan in a movement to prevent one white race from warring against another, was made public today.

W. J. Simmons signing himself, "Emperor of the Invisible Empire," wrote Lloyd George that the Ku Klux Klan would support him in a movement to unite the English speaking nations in a campaign against war.

The Klan, Simmons' message stated, has for a part of its program of service, unification of the two major English speaking nations of the world.

Neither the League of Nations or the International Court can secure the ends desired, Simmons said. A campaign between sovereign nations, dissimilar in color, creed and ideals cannot be maintained, he added.

"Your country, England, and my country, America, must be linked together by the ties of blood, of sympathy, in order to preserve our Anglo-Saxon civilization to save the world from a recurrence of war," Simmons said.

Bible Quiz Features College Y. W. Program

A Bible quiz in the form of a spelling match led by Miss Evelyn Raines was one of the features of the program of the College Y. W. C. A. meeting this morning. LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

TO UTILIZE IDLE LANDS IN SOUTH

A Forestry, Reclamation and Home Making Conference will be held in New Orleans, November 19-22.

The announced objects and purposes of the Conference are to devise ways and means for suitable utilization of idle lands in the United States and especially in the South; to eliminate speculation and exploitation from land settlement; to safeguard settlers who may seek to make homes on present idle lands; to increase the number of self-supporting farm homes; to secure effective co-operation of all interests working for constructive development of the country's idle lands wherever located and to secure expansion of the federal reclamation policy into national, instead of sectional, scope as at present.

In the South there are vast areas of cutover, swamp and overflowed lands lying idle and serving no useful purpose. It is considered desirable and essential for the best progress of the South that these lands be utilized in some suitable manner either as producers of revenue or for homemaking.

Proper utilization of these lands, it can readily be recognized, would prove of immense benefit to the entire nation as well as to the South.

Portions of the South's idle lands can best be utilized for reforestration; other portions can be used best for grazing and livestock raising, while other portions can be used for agriculture and development of prosperous self-supporting farm homes. It is the intention of the Conference to consider the development of idle lands from the standpoint of how they can best be utilized—how they can best be made to serve the needs of the South and of the nation.

Promoters of the Conference feel that the time has come when the policy of the federal government in extending aid for reclamation and settlement of idle lands should be expanded into national scope. For twenty-one years the West alone has received this federal assistance and approximately $140,000,000 has been expended in the West on reclamation projects. Promoters of the New Orleans Conference feel that the South, and the North and East as well, should be permitted to share in any future federal reclamation work.

In the South, idle, cut-over and "wet" lands can be reclaimed for about one-fourth the cost of reclaiming western arid and semi-arid lands. The South today affords virtually the only cheap farm lands available in America.

Theodore Gary Wants Special Road Session

Unless Legislature Issues Bonds Under $60,000,000 Program Work Will Cease by 1924.

Jefferson City, Oct. 23—At the session of the road meeting, resolutions were adopted indorsing the present road improvement program and speeding it up in the future.

A resolution was adopted asking the governor to call a special session of the legislature, but the methods of increasing road revenue for the next two years and in the future was only touched in one resolution, and it provides for obtaining the necessary additional revenue from motor vehicles.

About a dozen members of the legislature took part in the meeting. Representative William Job of Nodaway County attended the meeting.

Unless a special session of the legislature is held to issue more road bonds under the $60,000,000 program, road work will be almost cut off by 1924, Theodore Gary, chairman of the state highway commission, said at a road meeting here today. Representatives of the Automobile Club of Missouri, the state highway commission, the special state senate and the house of representatives committees and truck owners from Kansas City and St. Louis attended the meetings.

Two plans of obtaining more revenue for the carrying on and speeding up of the road program are being proposed. One provides for a tax of 1 cent a gallon on gasoline consumed in Missouri and the other would increase the state license fee on automobiles an average of $3 a year. According to estimates made by engineers and auditors of the highway department, either plan would produce the required amount of revenue to care for the issuance of the remaining $45,000,000 of road bonds of the $60,000,000 issue in the next three years.

The highway commission can spend $15,000,000 annually in carrying on the road work during 1924, 1925 and 1926 and by the end of 1927 complete all the roads that can be built with the amount of money, Mr. Gary said. He added that it would make 90 per cent of the 1,500 miles of primary roads all-weather roads and reiterated the announcement made by the commission last December that $108,000,000 additional would be needed for the construction of the secondary road system.

It was pointed out by Chairman Gary that the highway commission in 1922 and 1923 had reached a peak in road work, amounting to about $30,000,000 in contracts and that only about $13,000,000 of the $60,000,000 bond issue has been issued. The balance of the money spent was funds that had accrued from the Morgan-McCullough and other previous road program, he said.

He stressed the fact that the present efficient and powerful road-building organization would be broken up if the road program was not speeded up. If the matter of making provisions for more revenue is left to the regular session of the legislature in 1925, it would take until July of that year before the organization would be rebuilt and the present roadbuilding system resumed, he stated.

By buying roadbuilding materials in large quantities, such as the commission has recently contracted for, $6,700,000 can be saved during the coming three years, Mr. Gary estimated.

MISSOURI A FRUIT STATE.

Missouri is 9th in number of peach trees and eighth in production.

Missouri is 2nd in strawberry acreage and forging ahead for first place.

Missouri is first in flavor of fruits, not overlooking apples, persimmons or paw-paws.

Missouri was 2nd in fruits at the Panama-Pacific Exposition or World's Fair at San Francisco.

Missouri has the oldest fruit tree nursery in the United States, the largest in the world.

Missouri apples have the flavor, although Northwestern apples may have the edge for looks.

Missouri is 11th in total number of pear trees of bearing age, and 6th in production of pears (1919).

Missouri is a great nursery state, standing 5th in total amount of receipts from sales of nursery stock during 1919. (U. S. Census).

Ozark Mountain apples from Missouri won in competition against the world in choosing table apples for the King of England.

Missouri's title to leadership for quality and flavor of fruit is undoubtedly due to the soil and climate adapted to produce desirable fruit, and particularly apples, putting color on fruit unsurpassed by any climate excepting the extreme northwest.

Missouri's loess or fruit soil deposits along the Missouri and Mississippi rivers are the largest in America, being surpassed in quantity and area only by the Yellow River in China (1st) and the River Rhine in Germany (2nd).—From "Missouri in Paragraphs," a 1923 bulletin of the State Board of Agriculture.

If you borrow trouble you have the devil to pay.

A man got back at several of those friends who went away on vacations last summer and sent post cards with the bromide, "I wish you were here" to friends back home. He located a bunch of postcards in a city he was visiting showing scenes on the cemetery and he wrote the aforesaid bromide on them and sent them to those who had favored him.

Artist Will Take Class to Country

Free Instruction To Be Given In Landscape Painting—Tells Of Experiences Of Sincere Artists

L. Pierre Bottomer, the French artist who has been in Maryville for the last isx weeks, will take a class out in the country at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The class will be given instruction in landscape work and told of the artist's methods for determining proportion. About thirty persons will take the trip with Mr. Bottomer. This instruction is given free to all persons interested in art work and anyone desiring to take advantage of this free instruction is invited to be at Mr. Bottomer's studio at the office of Dr. R. C. Person, at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

"Many people are of the opinion that an artist has a rosey-cozy life," Mr. Bottomer said this morning. "It is so, but the artist that really wants original inspirations has to hunt out the beautiful vistas from back of the canyons, dells, and almost impassable places, many times risking their lives to get to reproduce and depict on the canvas that huge, seemingly bottomless chasm or a bit of colorful cliff where the artist and his brushes with easel works dilligently far from the outside civilized world. All this is done so that he can bring back that little spot of earthly heaven on the canvas, soaked with paint, for the art lovers, that they may hang it in their homes and to be passed down as an heirloom from one generation to the next."

Garland N. White went to Bethany today to spend a few days with relatives. He will return to Maryville before leaving for California in about a week. He motored over with H. B. Cushman, who will return tonight with Mrs. Cushman and children, who have been visiting relatives in Bethany.

Rich Man, Poor Man, Beggar Man, Thief —and a girl and her violin!

What would be the bond between them? Driven like ships bound for the Port of Prince and Pauper. Was it just the magic of her melody that came like a shaft of light to these people in the shadows?—or was it something else?

Music? Magic? Love?—perhaps a power greater still! Whatever it is, it echoes through this picture, a song of the soul that will linger in your memory for days to come.

Late Telegraph News

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 23—An attack upon "society lies" has been launched here by Dr. E. L. House, psychologist, who declares "society lies" have no defense.

"In society often white lies are its stock in trade, drawing rooms its counters and immortal souls its trade," asserts Dr. House. "Society needs a large invoice of sincerity. The world has contempt for the hypocrite in church, the quack in medicine and the fake in society.

"Jesus said if you want comfort, you must have the truth. Why is it then, we judge people so severely? It is not as a rule that we know the whole truth about them, only a fragment. The more we know, the gentler our judgments should grow," Dr. House said.

St. Louis, Oct. 23—Monkeys in Forest Park zoo here will have an imposing $152,000 home next spring.

Bids for construction of a "monkey house" to cost $152,000 will be received November 1, by the board of public service, it was announced.

The building will be two stories high with stucco finish, and will combine all modern conveniences including swimming pools.

He was wounded overseas and when discharged took what money he received from the government and bought the pigeons he worked with and became attached to.

Chinch Bug Burning Day is Being Planned

By Farmers in District Around Myrtle Tree School Some Day Early Part of November

A campaign against chinch bugs is being planned by the farmers in the community around the Myrtle Tree School. At the meeting last night at the Myrtle Tree School when R. A. Kinnaird, county farm bureau agent, showed the motion picture film "How to Save the Crops from the Chinch Bug," the members of the farm bureau in that district decided to set some day in the early part of November for a "Chinch Bug Burning Day."

At this time it is planned to have all the farmers to burn along fence rows, in ditches and sloughs where chinch bugs might be harboring for the winter. The farmers in the Myrtle Tree district told Mr. Kinnaird last night that they were not especially troubled with the chinch bugs this year but were going to take precaution against the pests for the coming year. Some of the men at the meeting said they had never seen chinch bugs.

Mr. Kinnaird reports that there was a good meeting at the Myrtle Tree School last night and a large number of farmers and their families present. The women of the district served a lunch during the course of the evening.

Tonight Mr. Kinnaird will show this film at the Knabb School house. He is trying to secure a motion picture film taken at the Baby Beef Show in St. Joseph last year which he wishes to show at the same time he throws the chinch bug picture on the screen. Both of these pictures are one-reelers.

Dates for other showings of the film have not been definitely arranged as yet. The picture will be in the hands of the Nodaway County Farm Bureau for the next six weeks and the county agent is making every effort to show the picture every night in some rural community of the county.

Lee Asks Schools to Take Papers

Jefferson City, Oct. 23.—Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of public schools, is urging that every school in the state take a daily newspaper, and has written each high school superintendent and the county superintendents to this effect. "The schools do not exist to teach subject matter alone," Lee said, "but to bring the world as it is before the student." There is no better means of doing this than the daily newspaper.

Following is the letter which Mr. Lee wrote:

To Dear Fellow Workers—The daily newspaper is the great vehicle of world-wide communication. It is not a luxury; it is a necessity. If people are to increase their knowledge they must be a reading people. A reading people is always a knowing people. Whatever dangers may beset our government, the same may be, and will be, overcome by an intelligent citizenship.

We, as teachers, must inculcate not only a desire for reading classics, history and other things applicable to the curriculum, but likewise must stimulate a desire to read the daily newspaper. If people are to read daily papers sufficiently it is a part of the schools function to cultivate such a move. I fear school children do not read daily papers as much as they should, and for this reason I am writing you urging that your school expend the small sum necessary for at least one daily paper and place the same with proper emphasis before the student body.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. IDA HEWITT, 1529 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LIBERAL RECEIPTS OF CATTLE HOGS CONTINUED WEAK

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 22—Cattle receipts today were the largest on any day in several weeks past, but not excessive for this season of the year. The increase over last Monday was caused by the arrival of shipments that had been delayed by the recent heavy rains. Good cattle held steady, and there was some weakness in the medium, plain, and common kinds. Hogs were steady slightly lower, and the general market gave evidence that the decline is about over. Sheep and lambs were stronger.

Today's Receipts

Receipts, today were 35,000 cattle, 18,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, compared with 28,000 cattle, 13,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep a week ago, and 28,500 cattle, 10,450 hogs, and 10,100 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

The few good choice steers sold readily at steady prices, but most other classes were off 10 to 15 cents, and exceptions down as much as 25 cents. Liberal runs in Omaha, Chicago, and St. Louis added weakness to the general market, and it is thought that clearing weather will bring better demand from all sections. The best steers here brought $10.25 to $11.25. Other fed steers sold at $8.00 to $9.75, and the extremes on grass fat steers was $3.75 to $8.00. Cows and heifers were quoted about steady. There was some weakness in plain kinds and a little better tone in "canners." Bulls were steady and veal calves weak.

Stockers and Feeders

Trade in stockers and feeders showed fairly large volume, but receipts were liberal and prices were slightly lower. All kinds and classes were available. A good many quality Texas, Colorado, and Wyoming cattle were offered.

Hogs

Good quality fat hogs sold largely at steady prices. The plain and common classes were 10 to 15 cents lower. Heavy classes drew more attention than for some time past, and it is about the time of the year when strong weight classes will command a premium. The top price today was $7.10, and bulk of sales $6.25 to $7.05. Packing sows sold at $6.00 to $6.15, and stock hogs $4.75 to $5.50. Quality of the offerings was below the average.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep were steady and lambs stronger. The general market gave evidence of a good demand, but weak prices elsewhere prevented an advance here. Best western lambs sold at $11.75 to $12.25, and native lambs $11.50 to $12.00. Fat ewes brought $5.50 to $5.75, and wethers $6.75 to $7.50.

Horses and Mules

Trade in good horses and mules continued active. Demand for cotton mules is larger than the supply. Plain classes are finding a slow market.

A Car of Greater Utility

Thoroughly representative of the 1924 Buicks, this four-cylinder, five passenger Touring Car is new from end to end. Its new body, frame, fenders and radiator—its new Buick valve-in-head engine—its four-wheel brakes, all exemplify Buick's policy of building into its cars greater utility and satisfaction with each succeeding year.

The minute attention to those details that make for greater comfort and convenience is well expressed in the new windshield, new ventilator operated by a push lever, wide, low and tilted seats and compactly grouped instruments. This Buick four-cylinder Touring Car worthily maintains the Buick reputation—Standard of Comparison.

G. O. P. LEADERS ARE DISPLEASED

THAT COOLIDGE WILL NOT BE ALONE IN 1924 RACE

PINCHOT RESENTS FIGHT

Made on Him by Massachusetts Republicans—Senator Johnson Still Regards Himself as Candidate

Washington, D. C. October 23—Republican leaders who started the Coolidge bandwagon forward two months ago in the hope that it would be the only vehicle in the procession to the national convention of their party in 1924 are visibly chagrined to behold other chariots trailing along with candidates and supporters. It is already foreseen that the President will not constitute the entire parade.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire deserted Senator Hiram Johnson after having prompted him to get into the presidential race and pledged himself to Coolidge. A few outstanding Republicans followed Senator Moses—some with and others without qualification. But Moses has remained silent for weeks and it is beginning to be suspected that he regrets his commitment to President Coolidge as having been too precipitate.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania is showing his resentment at the fight made on him by Republicans of Massachusetts following the negotiation of the "Pinchot pact" for the stoppage of the coal strike. It is regarded as certain that Governor Pinchot will continue his efforts to impair if not ruin President Coolidge's chances in the Republican convention. If Governor Pinchot can not himself obtain the nomination, it is felt by political observers, he will at least do all he can to open the gates and let other contenders into the field to challenge Mr. Coolidge.

Pronouncements from Senator Hiram Johnson indicates that he still fondly regards himself as the logical leader and presidential choice of the "Progressives." His abandonment by Senator Moses is not deemed to have hurt his original chances, however much it may have hurt his feelings. The republican delegation from California must be "progressive," Johnson has declared, and this is taken to mean that it must favor and further his candidacy.

In the Middle West there is a quiet but persistent propaganda for former Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois. This is being conducted in part by the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune's Washington correspondent is traveling about through "Lowden territory" to find and exploit symptoms of preference for Lowden. In addition, the Tribune's correspondent is faithfully reporting everything he discovers in derogation of President Coolidge as the next candidate.

On a tour of Iowa, the Tribune's correspondent, reported, he found that "there is little enthusiasm over the President in any part of the State." There was not much sentiment for Hiram Johnson, either, according to this chronicler, but "a good deal everywhere for the former Governor Frank O. Lowden." Advocates of Governor Lowden's nomination have been making capital for him by calling attention to the preponderance of Massachusetts in Congress and the Coolidge administration.

"Too Much Massachusetts" is the slogan which is being bandied about in Mr. Lowden's behalf by the Mid-West Review, issued from Aurora, Ill. This publication suggests that its slogan be raised in Washington when Congress convenes. A list of Massachusetts Republicans in important posts is published to show how powerful are its influences in the legislative and administrative branches of the Federal Government.

Senator Watson of Indiana has left the door open in case opportunity should happen along to offer him any encouragement. He has not permitted the record to show that he has eliminated himself in any one else's behalf. He is still available—very still.

It is now believed that the men who control the Republican National Committee will accept President Coolidge as the Republican nominee only on condition that he "unload" the World Court. There have been hints that he has determined to drop the Court. One interpretation of this is that his advisers believe he can't have the support of these powers within the National Committee if he stands by the Court.

Politicians are now convinced that the Republican presidential nomination is no longer a "chinch" for Mr. Coolidge.

Hyde Will Investigate Fake Diploma Charges

Declares He Will Take Action In Case Of B. H. Jolley, Superintendent, Of St. Charles County

Kansas City, Oct. 23—Governor Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri declared here today that he had become interested in the recent exposure of an alleged traffic of fake medical diplomas and would take action in the matter as soon as possible.

He declared he would investigate the case of B. H. Jolley, superintendent of public schools of St. Charles County who, according to prosecuting authorities of St. Louis County, confessed today that he sold high school graduation certificates at the bargain rate of $5 each.

"I do not know whether the Governor has authority to oust the county superintendent—in fact, I doubt that I have," the Governor said. "However, I will start investigation immediately. If I have not the power and the state superintendent of schools has, I will ask him to start proceedings immediately."

LEAGUE ARGUMENTS OUTLINED IN BOOK

WILSON'S EXPLANATIONS COMPILED BY HAMILTON FOLEY

GETS AN OFFICIAL O. K.

Former President Hopes It Will Inform Those Who Wish To Understand the League

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 23—Woodrow Wilson's arguments for the eLague of Nations as explained by him in public addresses and in White House conferences have been compiled and net down in compact form by Hamilton Foley in a book which will be issued by the Princeton University tomorrow. The work has been approved by the former President, who in a letter to Foley gives it his indorsement with the hope that "it will be of service to all who wish to understand the League of Nations and the vital issues which arise out of the attitude of the United States toward the league."

Foley in a large measure has chosen those excerpts from the wartime President that was intended to answer criticism of the league.

"Woodrow Wilson Case for the League of Nations" is the title.

"Every word in this book," Foley points out in the foreward, "is Mr. Wilson's own word, and all are herein used except explanation of details of the subject in which he used them."

First Chapter to War

From stenographic minutes of a conference with Senators at the White House in August, 1919, and from the official record of thirty-seven addresses to the public, Foley has extracted sentences and paragraphs and put them together so that virtually every argument Wilson advanced on any particular point has found it sway into the book under the heading of the subject under discussion. Also there have been appended the covenant of the league; copies of cablegrams from William H. Taft and Elihu Root addressed to Wilson in Paris and which suggested changes in certain portions of the text (which it is pointed out subsequently were adopted); two addresses the former President delivered before the Peace Conference in Paris and an interpretation of article X.

The first chapter in the book is devoted to the causes, as set forth by Wilson of the world war, and the second to a review of the treaty of Versailles, of which the league covenant is a part. It is not until the third chapter, under the heading, "The League of Nations," that Wilson's answer to his critics and his arguments for the document he played an important part in framing are set forth.

At the outset in that chapter, is an explanation of the two bodies of the league, the Council and the Assembly, and it is emphasized that the Council of which he intended the United States to become a member is the only real power in the body, and without a unanimous vote, to obtain which, America's ballot would be necessary there could be no decision rendered by the league. It is back to this point, that many of the arguments revert and wherein Wilson points is the 'only thing that seems to be weak about the league. I am afraid that a unanimous vote will sometimes be very difficult to get."

Publish Cablegrams.

Then there are set forth all the points considered by Wilson as pertaining to world peace.

Wilson's comments on other orticles in the league and on other objections to its provisions also are contained in this chapter. These items include dissertations on international law, cessation of German rights in Shantung and quotations from eminent Republicans purporting to show that they were in sympathy with the league's objects.

The final chapter of the book is devoted to "America and World Problems," and tells the former Presidents views on what he considers the nation's duty to the world. His assertions that American isolation is impossible and that opponents of the league have no other constructive plan to offer are summed up in this section.

The cablegrams from Taft and Root in an appendix to the book, asked chiefly for reservations or additions to the sections of the original covenant dealing with the Monroe doctrine domestic policies, Japanese immigration, limitation of armament, permanent court of arbitration, international law and rights to withdraw from the league.

"A comparison of the suggestions made by Mr. Taft and Mr. Root with the covenant as it stands today," comments Foley, "will prove that it was adopted in the final form by all the nations represented at the Paris peace conference and before he presented it to the United States Senate, President Wilson succeeded in having written into it practically every suggestion made by Mr. Taft and Mr. Root either in the language they proposed or in terms that very specifically provide for the matters they wished made definite."

Mr. Farmer, Do You Know That---

More than half the wealth of America is in her farms? A value equal to all the railroads, manufacturing of every kind and all other industries, and yet the financing of farm loans received little attention until we discovered that the fertile soil mantle that covers the smiling valleys and eternal hills of America was the safest security in the world on which to base loans—and then the Federal Farm Loan Act was passed. Let us tell you of its good features.
